RAILROAD MEETING.

A Delegation of Citizens From the City of Lebanon in the City.

They Meet the Citizens at Jefferson City in Public Meeting.

The citizens of Jefferson City feel a great interest in the railroad to Lebanon, Mo., and then to Southeast Missouri.

Jefferson City has for many years been fighting for the extension of this road. About five years ago, when it agreed to give the Missouri Pacific $20,000 and other property for the extension of the road for forty miles, which was accepted by the Missouri Pacific, the people felt sanguine that long deferred hope would soon be a realization. When the Jefferson City, Lebanon & Southwest Railroad company was first organized, leading citizens as Judge Arnold Krekel, J. Ed Belch and others, were active in pushing the project, Cole county, at that time, voted about one hundred and fifty thousand dollars towards this road for which they secured a road-bed for a distance of about twenty miles, which remained uncoupled until about five years ago when the Missouri Pacific took hold of the matter. To the great disappointment of Jefferson City the road was extended only to Bagnell, its present terminus. Lebanon, its objective point, about 35 miles not yet reached. The object of this meeting and conference between the citizens of Lebanon and the citizens of Jefferson City was to ascertain whether inducements could not be offered to justify the extension of this road immediately to Lebanon, Mo., and then to Southeast Missouri.

A large meeting of the citizens was held at the Commercial club rooms, where the prospects for the roads were thoroughly discussed. It was the general opinion of all present that Jefferson City and Cole county and Laclede county would be able to make substantial offers in order to secure the extension of the road.

The citizens' meeting was called to order by Hon. Edwin Silver, and on motion Mr. J. W. Henry was elected chairman and Hugo Monnig secretary. The meeting was addressed by Col. James T. Moore of Lebanon and other of the delegation from that city and by a number of citizens.

Mr. Silver introduced the following resolution, which was adopted.

Resolved, that the chairman of this meeting appoint a committee of three citizens of Jefferson City to act in conjunction with a committee of the citizens of Lebanon to visit and confer with the Missouri Pacific railway authorities with reference to the extension of the Lebanon branch railroad from Bagnell to Lebanon, said committee be empowered and instructed to visit Missouri Pacific board of directors in New York City if the committee deem it necessary.

The chairman appointed the following committee: Messrs. Silver, Wagner and E. B. Ewing, who will act with the delegation from Lebanon.

The committee left on the early morning train to confer with the Missouri Pacific officials and ascertain what is expected of Jefferson City and Lebanon.

The new brick company that will soon establish a yard east of the city are now receiving their machinery and putting it in place. We understand that this company intends to manufacture fine pressed brick.

Try BLACK-DRAUGHT for Dyspepsia.

The Republican nominee for alderman of the first ward, Albert Zuendt is a well known to require an introduction to the people of his ward. His friends are legion, and with democratic support that he will no doubt receive, he will be able to win a two year term as first ward councilman. Give Mr. Zuendt a rousing non-partisan vote. He will make an excellent, painstaking official.

A Household Treasurer.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family has always found the very best results follow its use: that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at A. Brandenberger's drug store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

How to Improve Main Street.

We have heretofore had a great deal to say about the improvement of Main street. It has always seemed strange that the capital of this state did not have one beautifully paved street. And the citizens now perhaps fully realize the mistake that has been made in that respect. We now offer a suggestion that may be worthy of consideration. The legislature of this state about the year 1855 passed an act by which the state promised to keep Main street in repair in consideration of the city vacating that part of Main street that runs through the capital grounds. That act has never been repealed but has remained a dead letter. The state has never complied with its part of the contract although the city vacated the street. Is it not possible for the state and the property owners on Main street to enter into an arrangement by which this street could be paved with asphaltum from the capital gate to Cherry street? We think there is and it might be done in this way: Let the State prison furnish the labor, the city or property owners the macadam and all material necessary for paving the street. Some grading would be necessary, and the street could be narrowed so as to have a grass plot in front of each residence of about fifteen feet, which could be planted with trees. This would bring the expense of paving this street within the reach of every property owner and would be a beauty and joy forever. We throw this suggestion out for what it is worth.

Brick Yards.

Heretofore the brickyards of Jefferson City have been made to supply the demand for first-class, merchantable brick. It is believed with the prospects for this year, the yards will again be taxed to their full capacity. While it is possible that some citizens who contemplate building homes will defer the same until the capital removal question is voted, the work of the brick yards will nevertheless this year be taxed to meet the demand. Jefferson City is noted for manufacturing as fine a brick as can be made in Missouri. One difficulty has been to reach the markets of the south. With the completion of the bridge across the river, two railroads that run into a section of country where brick can not be made from the soil found there will be right at our doors and can transport this article to any section of the country. It shows that with a bridge Jefferson City will be one of the best distributing points in the state.

Try BLACK-DRAUGHT tea cures Constipation.

The visitors of Lebanon were shown about the city under charge of a committee appointed of which Hon. Edwin Silver was chairman. They visited the capitol, the water works, and other places of interest about the city, and in the evening a meeting was held at the Commercial club room at which the prospects of the completion of the railroad to Lebanon were considered and discussed.

The bridge committee have been busy soliciting stock subscription for the bridge in the west end and report that it is very hard work. Citizens do not yet seem to realize the importance of this bridge in the capital removal fight. On Tuesday a committee met the farmers and citizens on the north side of the river at Cedar City.

The Missouri Pacific railroad has just completed an excellent new side walk on the west side of its round house property, from Main street to the river. There are forty other streets that are much more in need of a side walk than this one, and a good many of them are in the west end, but we suppose the city council had to order the work done or bear the reputation of being too lenient with the railroad. We now rise to make the suggestion that the west-enders who have insisted on the railroad being required to put down this walk, be required to do a little paving themselves. Fair treatment of the railroad demands this.

The last session of the legislature departed on Monday noon. Monday evening every one had gone home.

The Bridge.

There are many citizens who think that all that is necessary to secure the bridge is to shout, "We will get the bridge!" This shouting will never build the bridge. It requires money and requires subscription from every citizen who lives in Jefferson City, whether he be a property owner or not. $100,000 in cash is required, for the purpose of building this great structure, and the committee that has been soliciting the subscription can testify to the condition that confronts the people. Unless a more liberal spirit is shown and people make up their minds to do right themselves, before judging as to what their neighbor should do, the bridge will never be built. Jefferson City has a chronic disease that it can well afford to dispense with just at this time. The disease exists in telling what some body else should do and the party who gives sage advice and usually ends up by doing nothing himself. This spirit can result in but one thing—the defeat of the bridge. Every body should do their utmost, regard less of their neighbor. Let your neighbor take care of himself.

McEire's WINE OF CARDUI for Female Diseases.

Mr. George Porth, the candidate for city treasurer, deserves the support of every Republican. He has been an efficient party worker in every campaign in which his services have been called for, and the honor of electing him treasurer ought to be given by a rousing vote.

The Republican nominee for councilman of the fourth ward, Herman Backers, is one of the most substantial and progressive citizens of the fourth ward. Those who know him best say that he will make one of the most efficient councilmen that could possibly be selected. He should be elected by a big majority and no doubt will be.

Julius Conrath will make the people a good mayor and should be elected. He is entitled to every Republican vote in the city. We have elected a Republican mayor for the past four years and there is no good reason why we should not do so this year.

The Republicans in Jefferson City should stand up shoulder to shoulder and elect their entire city ticket.

McEire's WINE OF CARDUI for Weak Nerves.

Mr. Conrad Waldeck, who has served this city faithfully and well as city attorney, will undoubtedly be elected by a big majority. He has discharged the duties of his office with fidelity and ability, and deserves re-election.

There seems to be very little excitement over the spring election. Candidates on both sides are at present busily engaged in button-holing voters in a quiet way. No brass band campaign this year.

The foundation for the new Little Mill will soon be commenced. The debris has been removed and everything is being put in readiness for the commencement of the new structure.

There are many phases to the removal of the capitol from Jefferson City. On one hand we find it centrally located and on one of the most beautiful sites of any capitol in America. Again the penitentiary is located there and to separate them would not be best. On the other side of the question, we find that Jefferson City, while centrally and beautifully located; is it very inaccessible; and it appears from the howl that goes up from the members of both houses that the hotel and saloon accommodations are not up to their ideals. Thus we might find many phases to both sides of the question.—Hannibal Graphic, (Shelby Co.) March 16, 1895.
